Dear Friends:

I am very happy to have this opportunity to express my thanks and appreciation to the student body of Plainview High School for the courteous co-operation given me this year. Your fine spirit and attitude have made this school year very pleasant and profitable for all of us.

I wish to commend the sponsors and staff of this annual for their work in producing this excellent yearbook, which I am sure you will enjoy for many years. To the graduating seniors, I wish to extend my hearty congratulations.

Sincerely yours,

W. H. Avinger

Dear Friends:

Congratulations to the sponsors and all the editors of the 1950 Plain View. It takes a lot of work to produce a fine book like this one. I know you are repaid for all the extra work you have done and all the times you had to beg someone to have a picture made or write a line.

Probably the best things of life are done on over-time without pay. I am deeply grateful for pupils and teachers who do things.

Yours sincerely,

R. W. Davidson

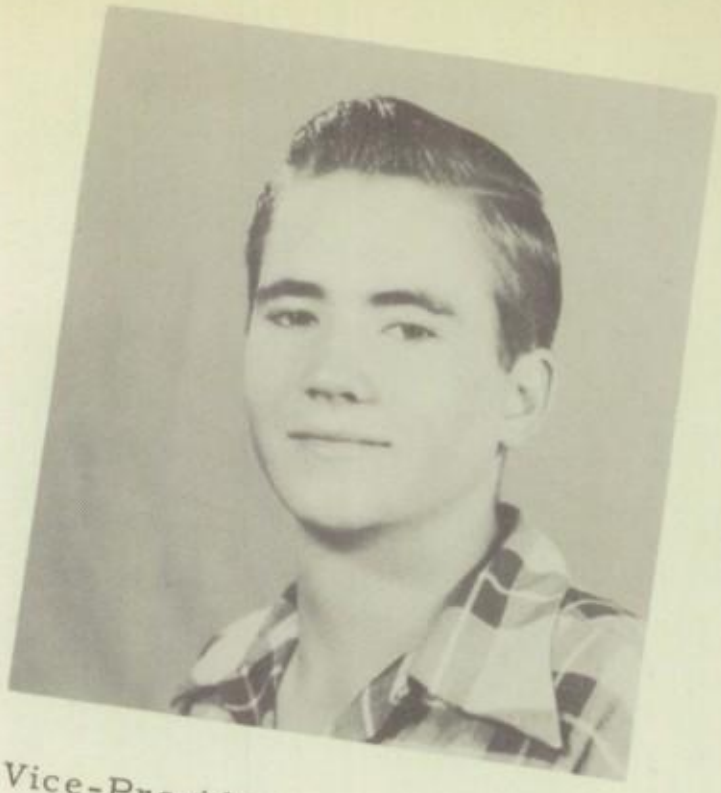
Seniors

President-LOWELL KINGERY



Vice-President-RALPH MILLER

Secretary-JUNE PATTERSON

Treasurer-RALPH MAY

Nearly one hundred and forty seniors graduated from PHS this year. Although this class is smaller than last year's, there isn't any less talent.

Heading the student body was an outstanding senior, Bill Woods. He was also elected Boy Most Likely to Succeed and was drum major of the band.

Three of the cheerleaders were seniors. They were J. T. Campbell, Billy Dewberry, and June Patterson. June was Best All Around Girl this year.

Our Student Council representatives were Hazel Martin and Lowell Kingery. Hazel and Dean Howard were class favorites.

Mrs. Nils Akeson was senior sponsor.

The annual play, "What A Life", was presented March 3.

CLASS PROPHECY

The atmosphere was dark and mysterious, the air smelled heavily of incense, and Madam Swami and Jane Green spoke in hushed tones.

'Madam, I am worried about the class of 1950. What do you forsee in your crystal ball', said Jane.

'I see many things for your graduating class', replied Madam Swami.

'I see that Kenneth Gilbert, along with Billy Dewberry and Robert Cobb, will start a trip to the moon in their Supersonic Space Ship. Acting as pilot of the ship is Glenn Yates with Philip Taylor as co-pilot. Among the passengers are the newly-weds, Rowena and Dave Harris, who are on their honeymoon. Jack Harris is going along to see if the land up there is any better for farming, and Elmer Stevens hopes to found the first University of the Moon. Burke Beall plans to open 'The Bouncing Beauties of Beall' night club with Betty Sewell, Frances Stevens, Betty Thurman, Billy Sue Utley, and Martha Wattenbarger as 'The Bouncing Beauties'. Ona Bell True, Alma Payne, and Jeannine Green will be cigarette girls. Earlene Jones will start immediately campaigning for the position of first Senator for the Moon. June Patterson and Bobby Mangum are the air hostesses on the ship and Jack Crowther is their pet air sickness patient.'

'As the crystal ball clears I see a large tent, a sea of a million faces, and I hear the resonant, dramatic voice of Eldon Smith crying, calling -----'Popcorn, Peanuts, Cold Drinks'. He is selling these items in Charles Durning's circus, 'The Durning Daring Feats of Death'. Herbert Powell is startling everyone with his act of juggling snakes, while Evelyn Dean has folks gasping for breath with her thrilling act on the tight rope. Marjorie Follis, Patsy Garner, and Shirley Estes send chills up people's spines as they defy death in the top of the tent. Hiram Reed and Garland Reese convulse the people with their clown stunts. Ila Fae Hopkins and Leta Himes have everyone staring with their feats of bareback riding, and Garland Smith astonishes everyone as he drives his trusty Ford through flaming hoops.'

'I see Bob Hilburn as Editor of the New York Times at the young age of 30. His three private secretaries are Wanda Harris, Jackie Cline, and Jane Brink. His typists include Patti Abernathy, Elinor Ferrell, and Frances Lovell. The copywriters are Ruby Thurman, Tommie Webb, and Omega Williamson. Slaving in the heated atmosphere of the printing room are Ralph May, Donald Manning, Terry Beckham, J.T. Campbell, and Marvin Dean.'

'Yes, yes, go ahead', gasps Jane at this point. 'Well, I can see Martha Dobson as the first woman President of the United States-she finally admitted she was 35-and many of her old friends serve under her. Gerald McClure is Vice-President, Susan McCulloch, Secretary of State, and Pat Duzan is the President's sole advisor on all matters.'

'I see in the distance of the crystal ball a small theater. It appears that Eddie Austin is the director of the theater and the cast is really a familiar one--Fred Grigsby is the leading male star, while Patricia Thruston plays the feminine lead. In the supporting cast are Ledale Meeks, Durwood Neie, Sally

Moore, and Melvin Mills. The back-stage workers are Joyce Schneider, painting scenery; Lorene Sisemore and Mozelle Smith, make-up artists; and prompters, Kenneth Tipps and Peggy Webb. Out front Bill Woods conducts the orchestra and Jack Howton is a stately usher. The play is the old favorite, 'Midwinter Nights Nightmare'.'

'There looms in the crystal ball a huge laboratory-in it are the world's greatest scientists, Russell Strain, Jeane Browning, and Earl Webster. They are working out the formulas for a new bomb, the powerful 'Super-Bang-Bomb'.'

'In another laboratory I see many others, but this is a different type of laboratory. Burnett Young, Lowell Kingery, and Glen Looney are perfecting a tree which grows both vegetables and fruits. They were going to call it the 'Vega-Fruit Tree', but Bobby Evans thought it ought to grow popcorn and peanuts too, so now they will experiment further.'

'Oh! This is most interesting! Leon Macbeth and Ada Miller finally got married and astounded the world with quintuplets, but Dorothy Bryan and Dean Howard surpass them as the proud parents of sextuplets.'

'In Grand Central Station are many of your old friends--Weldon McBride is the conductor of the California-bound Stream Liner and Alice Schneider, Windell Taylor, Joyce Williamson, Velta Morrow, and Pat Robertson are among his passengers. Norma Haston is at the Information Desk.'

'I see a big ranch house, it's a Dude Ranch, owned by Janice McDonald and Jean McMennamy---- Rozella King and Gloria Kay are among the chief attractions, as cowgirls, of course, and Patricia Hol - sapple and Patsy Ewen make darling waitresses. Luther Gaither, Billy Gillespie, and Robert Findley care for the poor horses after the 'Dudes' get through with them, while Ann Cowan and Kay Clements are the trick lasso artists. Marie English, Jacqueline Crowell, Joan Calvin, Billy Brown, Wayne Chiddix provide local color as dudes.'

'I see that some of the old students are back at old P.H.S. Kenneth Adams is the principal, Beth Booker has Mrs. Griffin's place, Hazel Martin is the secretary, Glenna Campbell teaches shorthand and typing. Horace Chaney is head coach, Virginia Brady now teaches History, and Rogene Bond teaches English, and Gale Bolles teaches Math, and Betty Bailey is the girls' P.E. teacher.'

'I see also that Connie McPeak and Mildred Mauldin have opened a 'Dainty Dress Shoppe', with Maxine Mickey, Thralene Parsons, Patsy Rackley, Cleatis Roberts, and Faye Sanford as clerks.'

'Now the crystal ball becomes a little dim, but I can see that Kenneth Shields, and Bobby Smith have a 'golf school'. Tommy Schaeffer, Richard Roberson, and Bobby Rogers are the students with James Richards, Charles Morgan, and Ralph Miller as caddies. Zola Nicholson sells candy and cold drinks to all the boys.'

'That is all', sighs Madam Swami.

'But me, me, what about me?' wails Jane.

'I see a tall, and da--, I'm sorry, the crystal ball is blurred, I can see no more. Five dollars, please.'

This year's Junior Class feel that they have accomplished more this year than any other year. We have good leaders in our class and feel that we will be able to step into the seniors' shoes when they leave.

One item we boast of is the Junior Play given in November.

Betty Bawden and Wayne Miller are our Student Council representatives.

We are highly anticipating the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Our Student Council representatives were Blonnie Simmons and Alvin Gregg. We elected Elna Ruth Peterson and Bobby Doyle Collins for our class favorites.

Miss Odessa Howell was our sponsor.

The sophomore class was well represented in the activities of the year. Mary Booher, Sue Bawden, and Nancy Cooper were three of the four twirlers of the band. Three of the eight cheerleaders were Elna Peterson, Shirley Vulgamott, and Charles Herring. Many of our boys took active parts in sports. Tom Caskey was elected Most Handsome Boy, and Shirley Vulgamott was elected Girl Most Likely to Succeed.

We are looking forward to having two more successful years.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Patti Abernathy leaves her original ideas to Betty Bawden.
Kenneth Adams leaves, but takes Ona Belle True with him.
Jerry Aker hands over his way with the girls to Earl Harkins.
Bobby Arney, Ralph Miller, Garland Smith, and James Gary Richards will their ability to get demerits to anyone dumb enough to get caught.
Rogene Bond leaves with an M.R.S. Degree.
Pat Duzan wills her pep to Wanda Grace Ellis, who does pretty well already.
Alice Schneider leaves to invent an anti-freckle solution.
Faye Sanford and Frances Rainer will their alto voices to Ruth Horn and Peggy Hughes.
Rozella King, Wanda Harris, Sally Moore, and Maxine Mickey venture forth into the business world.
Elmer Stevens leaves his talent in just about everything to Jeff McBeth.
Earl Webster wills his ability to play hookey to someone who can get by with it.
Kenneth Shields leaves with a box of golf balls under his arm.
Leta Himes leaves sporting a new diamond.
Ann Cowan and Kay Clements head for North Texas to major in campusology.
Windell Taylor leaves to 'bring home the bacon'.
Herbert Powell wills his musical ability to P.L. Sharp.
Bill Woods and Jane Green will their ability to imitate people to Yvonne Ragle, who is not new at the game.
Dean Howard, Melvin Mills, and Kenneth Tipps leave to be farmers.
Jackie Crowell wills her love of talking to some long-winded person.
Burnett Young leaves to get into more mischief.
Shirley Estes leaves her 'Southern drawl' to Betty Jo Evans.
Betty Bayley leaves to seek her fortune--is that really what she's after?
Pat Robertson wills her dozen secretarial jobs to Mary Ann Gidney.
Richard Roberson, Donald Manning, and Phillip Taylor leave to do as little as they can get by with.
Betty Sewell and Betty Cobb will their senses of humor to two other silly people.
Leon McBeth leaves with Ada Miller--well, what did you expect?
Alma Payne and Vada English leave the choir.
Billie Sue Utley and Lorene Sisemore leave their well-decorated lockers to the bewildered freshmen next year.
Patsy Rackley wills her quiet ways to Yvonne Fish.
Pattsy Garner and Martha Wattenbarger leave speech class--at last.
Billy Dewberry, Bob Hilburn, and Jeane Browning leave the Plainsman bills to Maxine Brownlee to collect. Poor Kid!
Earl Barr leaves journalism--whew! That's a load off his mind.
Bobby Rogers leaves Mary Wallace with a 'Hands Off' sign.
Luther Gaither, Rowena Roach, Jack Howton, and Eddie Austin will their places in the senior play to four other ambitious 'goons'.
Horace Chaney and Charles Morgan finally leave civics class.
Eldon Smith leaves his dark hair to Billy Line.
Frances Stevens wills her skating ability to Pat Babb.
Beth Booker leaves--two years early.
Ledale Meeks leaves her intelligence to David Black.
Ruby Thurman and Joyce Williamson leave to be 'Sue Bartons'.
Kenneth Gilbert and Fred Grigsby leave their address books to Teddy Hannah and Carl Peek.
Albert Babitzke wills his shy manner to Roy Poage.
Burke Bealle leaves his ability to throw erasers and ink bottles to Donnie Yarbrough.
Terry Beckham leaves to make a fortune at loafing.
Gale Bolles, Jane Brink, and Patsy Ewen leave their blond hair to three juniors.
Virginia Brady and Bobbie Mangum leave to keep each other out of mischief.
Dorothy Bryan leaves her friendly manner to Shirley Vulgamott.
Billy Brown, Jack Crowther, David Harris, and Tommy Webb will their interest in studying to other ambitious students.

Glenna Campbell leaves Betty Cook and Dorothy Thompson.
J.T. Campbell takes his brains with him--did you expect him to leave them?
Joan Colvin just leaves!
Evelyn Dean wills her ability to finish early to some smart person.
Martha Dobson leaves P. H.S. luncheon meetings. Cheer up, Martha, maybe they'll have them in college.
Bobby Evans leaves Jenny Lou Ballard, reluctantly.
Velta Morrow leaves her laughter to Mildred Harkins.
Ronnie White leaves Doris--sob!
Bob Findley wills his practical jokes to Larry Temple.
Pauline Fisher leaves her understanding nature to Sue Case.
Jack Harris leaves his position as sports editor to a member of next year's Plainsman staff.
Ila Fae Hopkins wills her cute clothes to Mertice Lester.
Marjorie Follis leaves her unusual eyes to a senior next year.
Elinor Ferrell leaves her dark eyes to Kay Hanna.
Jackie Cline wills her boy friends to the junior girls.
Charles Durning leaves his interest in civics to Johnny Gregg.
Billy Gillespie leaves his horn-rimmed glasses--that may be unhandy!
Patricia Holsapple leaves to be with Pee Wee.
Jessie Johnson and Connie McPeak take their dislikes of work with them. Seems that the juniors are already well supplied.
Hazel Martin leaves her personality to Dorothy Cox.
Mary Nell Zeiss leaves to practice what she learned in driving class.
Janice McDonald leaves to win the Kentucky Derby.
Norma Haston wills her talent for writing to Glenda Williams.
Susan McCulloch wearily leaves the annual room. Glenn Yates goes along to sympathize with her.
June Patterson wills her sewing ability to another F.H.A. member.
Jean McMennamy leaves to learn new jokes to tell her friends.
Weldon McBride gladly leaves civics.
Gerald McClure leaves with a pick in one hand and a shovel in the other.
Jeannine Greene leaves her ability to play an organ and piano to Martha Ellen Boatright.
Gloria Kay leaves her shorthand to someone who thinks they can pass it.
Lowell Kingery leaves Sylvia Howton--did you expect him to take her?
Zola Nicholson leaves with an arm load of ice cubes.
Durwood Neie wills his brown hair to Lester Ramsey.
Thralene Parsons leaves with--well, you know who.
Hiram Reed leaves proud (to be out, that is).
Cleatis Roberts wills her shortness to Jerry Pennington.
Tommy Schaeffer leaves quietly.
Bobby Smith leaves to be a pickpocket.
Russell Strain leaves Pauline Williams with a diamond on her left hand.
Wayne Chiddix, Robert Cobb, Marvin Dean, and Glenn Looney leave to just loaf--did you expect them to work?
Frances Lovell leaves with Wayne.
Peggy Webb leaves happy to be finished--aren't we all!
Mozelle Smith leaves to write letters.
Mildred Mauldin leaves Jimmy Matlock. Parting is such sweet sorrow. . .
Patricia Thruston leaves to tour the globe.
Bettye Thurman leaves to be with her hubby.
Duane Williams leaves to raise livestock.
Omega Williamson leaves to find a boss with a comfortable knee to sit on.
Garland Reese, Earlene Jones, and Ralph May sneak out.
Joyce Schneider leaves her senior class section to someone who likes to work their fingers to the bone. Typing, you know!

BOARD OF CITY DEVELOPMENT

Plainview, Texas

January 19, 1950

Faculty and Students,
Plainview High School,
Plainview, Texas

Friends:

To the Student Body, the business men of Plainview, through their Chamber of Commerce, express appreciation for individual effort and achievement of another step toward a more stable citizenship and a greater place of service to society as the leaders of communities, states, nations, and the world of tomorrow.

To the Faculty, we express commendation for tireless, patien efforts put forth in the interest of our youth. They could never make the grand showing they have made without your efficient guidance.

Best wishes for all the years to come.
